

STARGAZING IN MOJAVE NATIONAL PRESERVE

Pasadena's Old Town Sidewalk Astronomers will set up huge telescopes to show us the moons of Jupiter, the rings of Saturn, star clusters and much more.

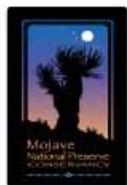

- Free camping at Black Canyon Group Campsite!
- Free night sky program with highly skilled astronomers!
- High powered telescopes provide stunning views for all!
- Learn about Mojave National Preserve Conservancy!
- Do you have a telescope and want to share? Bring it!

When: Saturday May 31, 2014; potluck starts at 6 pm
Where: Black Canyon Group Campsite, 10 miles north of I-40 on Essex Road, then 10 miles north of Essex Road on Black Canyon Road

What to bring: Camping gear, layered clothing, food to share and your personal plate, silverware, and cup for the potluck

Dinner is potluck- bring a dish to share. Breakfast is on your own.

RSVP on facebook, or at dlamfrom@npca.org, or at 760 219-4916

Old Town
Sidewalk
Astronomers

OPTIONAL SERVICE PROJECT

Join preserve staff and other volunteers to pull and bag invasive weeds near the campground.

When: Saturday, May 31st at 9:00 am

Where: Black Canyon Group Campsite, 10 miles north of I-40 on Essex Road, then 10 miles north of Essex Road on Black Canyon Road. Camping is free here for participants for the nights of May 30 and 31.

What to bring: Water, lunch, work gloves, sunscreen and a hat

RSVP at christina_burns@nps.gov or at 760 326-7051