

Youth Arts in the Parks

New River Gorge National River and the National Coal Heritage Area present

2014 History Festival at Thurmond

Discover the stories of hidden history through explorations of the park. Join us for a FREE field trip to New River Gorge National River at the historic town of Thurmond! Transportation costs will be paid by the park on a first come-first served basis with a limit of 100 students for the one day field trip. Schools are can attend on September 30th or October 1st.

What? The National Park Service is proud to sponsor a day of artistic, educational activities for middle school students to learn about history while IN it!

Who? 6th – 8th grade students

When? Sept. 30th or Oct.1st from 9:00 am -1:30 PM
(all participants should bring a sack lunch and a beverage)

Where? Historic Thurmond in New River Gorge National River

Students will:

- Gain a greater awareness of and appreciation for the diverse history of their region and the resources of the park.
- Engage in art projects in the park to increase their personal understanding of history and artistic mediums.
- Identify historic buildings, objects, and stories through their exploration of the town of Thurmond.
- Practice Leave No Trace Outdoor Ethics during their visit.

Activities focus on history, art, and English:

Activities are all based around a theme of discovery of hidden and not so hidden history through an exploration of the town of Thurmond and surrounding areas. Students will rotate through activity stations where they will participate in a variety of hands-on activities including:

- Watercolor painting by the river
- Historical photography
- Design of picture frames and quilt squares.
- Investigation of games and music from long ago.
- Creative sketching of historic objects and more!

Registration:

Youth Arts in the Parks is open to 100 middle school students. Schools will be selected on a first-to-register basis. Transportation costs will be paid by the park.

Registration Deadline: Tuesday, September 23rd
