

Map Legend

15	Lighted buoy		Ranger station		Marina
	Unpaved road		Drinking water		Boat ramp
	Campground		Picnic area		Scuba diving
	Group campground		Self-guiding trail		Swimming area (unsupervised)
	Fishing dock

Aids to Navigation

Do not use this map for navigation.

Channel Buoys (traveling upstream)

Port (left) buoy		Mid-channel buoys (white light)		Starboard (right) buoy

Regulatory Markers

	Danger		Boats keep out		Area controlled "as indicated"
---	--------	---	----------------	---	-----------------------------------

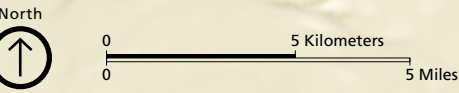

Storm Warning Flags

Small craft advisory

Gale warning

Diver's Flag

Diver in water

Fluctuating lake levels change access and create hazards at many locations; check with the visitor center for current conditions.

Upstream from this point, the Amistad NRA boundary continues to follow the international boundary, which is mid-channel in the Rio Grande.

National Park Service rangers do not have jurisdiction in Mexico; boaters in Mexico should rely on Mexican authorities for assistance.