

COLORADO PRESERVE AMERICA
YOUTH SUMMIT

Southern Rockies

CROSSROADS OF CULTURE

June 15 - 21, 2013
Pueblo • Colorado

This project is paid for in part by a State Historical Fund grant from History Colorado.

Welcome

Welcome Youth Summit Participants!

YOU CAN MAKE HISTORY!

Southeast Colorado Regional Heritage Task Force and our Youth Summit partners and sponsors welcome you to the Southern Rockies: Crossroads of Culture.

You are already making history—the Colorado Youth Summit has become a national model with other states following our lead. With help from the National Park Service, this year both Indiana and Washington State will offer similar programs. Congratulations to all those who have helped to make the Colorado program the first to start this nationally recognized effort. This year as we celebrate the benchmark 20th anniversary of the State Historical Fund, we need to continue to make Colorado the national leader in preservation programs.

Over the next few days, you will be tasked during an interactive program to learn more about the diverse history, multiple cultures, preservation issues and community challenges of the Southern Rockies. We want you to learn, have fun and help generate ideas and create solutions for saving and sharing the stories and historic places of this historically and culturally important region for future generations.

Southeast Colorado Regional Heritage Task Force along with partners History Colorado, the City of Pueblo, The State Historical Fund and Historic Pueblo, Inc., have worked with local community leaders to prepare an extensive program for you. Thank you to our sponsors—particularly the State Historical Fund, History Colorado, the National Park Service, the History Channel, and the El Pomar Foundation. The support of these generous sponsors makes this educational experience possible.

Now it is your turn—help make history! Let your voice be heard as a national leader. We need your feedback and recommendations on how to better save, share and understand our nation's historic places. We look forward to hearing your ideas!

Thank you for being part of Colorado History!

Ann A. Pritzlaff
Youth Summit Director

Study Themes & Questions

The questions below are the “Guiding Questions” to provoke thought and generate new ideas with recommendations presented in daily blogs and presentations and the Town Hall concluding the Summit.

TELLING THE STORY: CULTURAL AND ETHNIC HERITAGE

1. What was your “wow” moment in learning about the many cultures of the places visited?
2. What historic places do you think should be preserved to help communicate the stories of people who have lived in the Southern Rockies?
3. As residents of neighborhoods change, how can cultural heritage and traditions be preserved and shared?
4. In what creative ways can the local communities better showcase their cultures with others?
5. How would you share the cultural stories and places of this region with youth across Colorado?

DEVELOPING ENGAGING HERITAGE TOURISM EXPERIENCES

1. Tourists travel the world to experience many cultures. How can the Southern Rockies be better publicized as appealing to travelers?
2. How can technology be used in innovative ways that go beyond standard mechanisms (Twitter and Facebook) to assist local communities in sharing their heritage?
3. What type of heritage-related activities or programming would be appealing to reach out to youth and their families?
4. What exhibits, displays, printed materials or other interpretation tools do you think could better illustrate the region’s heritage?
5. How would you get local youth more involved in promoting the Southern Rockies as a destination?

PRESERVING NEIGHBORHOOD AND COMMUNITY CHARACTER

1. How would you describe what might be the perfect neighborhood or community?
2. What three things would you tell others about the importance of maintaining the character of the historic communities and neighborhoods visited?
3. Describe three critical ways students can become involved in historic preservation activities.
4. Saving and reusing historic buildings can pose challenges to meet 21st century demands. Share examples of the creative reuse of historic buildings you would share with others.
5. In learning about a City's role in community decisions, how would work to preserve historic communities and how would you encourage others to become involved?

SAVING AND SHARING HISTORIC MINING AND INDUSTRIAL SITES

1. What three stories of mining and industrial history will you share with others?
2. Why do you think learning about and visiting mining and industrial sites is important?
3. What are three critical ways that students can reach out to encourage the appreciation of mining and industrial places when they may not be the type of sites that people are used to visiting?
4. How should the stories of places of tragedy be best shared to make all feel welcome?
5. How can students and youth be better mobilized through service projects or other ways to help identify and work to help preserve historic places that matter?
