Section 5 Page 1

When listed in 1994, the La Crosse Commercial Historic District contained 94 contributing and 17 non-contributing resources. This additional documentation is being submitted to update the status of one building within the district at 208 S 4th Street and known as the Gund-Wiggert Building. At the time of listing, the building was identified as non-contributing due to façade changes. The façade changes were from outside the period of significance and adversely affected the integrity of the building. In 2016 the owner of the building began restoration to bring the exterior and interior back to their historic appearance. While the exterior restoration is not yet complete, enough work has been done to reverse the adverse changes so that the building now has a level of integrity similar to other contributing buildings within the District. This building now contributes to the significance of the District. This additional documentation seeks to amend the district to include this building as contributing to the District. The current count is now 95 contributing and 16 non-contributing resources.
