

Help us Restore Wetlands At the National Seashore

Saturday, February 23rd 9am-1pm

Come volunteer with the Watershed Stewards Project and National Park Service's Stream Team at Point Reyes National Seashore.

We need your help restoring a heavily impacted wetland site by planting native vegetation. Learn how your efforts will help reduce creek pollutants and improve protected trout and salmon habitat!

Where to meet: The Bear Valley Visitor Center parking lot. We will carpool to the project site at Randall Trailhead around 9:15am.

What to bring: water, sack lunch, sun protection, rain gear, long pants, closed toed shoes.

Tools, gloves & rain boots will be provided. A water/snack station will be available for your convenience.
