

Enjoy the River Safely

- Wear your life jacket. Make sure your child wears a life jacket!
- Use alcohol responsibly. Many river accidents involve alcohol.
- Wear sunscreen, sunglasses, and a hat to prevent sunburn. Water reflects the rays of the sun giving you a double dose of ultraviolet light.
- Avoid trees that have fallen in the river. They can catch and overturn your vessel.
- Don't jump from cliffs, bridges, or trees.
- Protect your feet with river shoes, water sandals, or old shoes. Fish hooks, glass, and rocks can injure your feet.
- Bring your own drinking water. Treat river water before drinking to avoid giardiasis, a serious stomach irritant.
- Blastomycosis is a fungal infection that is commonly contracted by dogs and sometimes by humans. Avoid digging in moist soils.
- Check for ticks often and know the symptoms of Lyme disease. Deer ticks are common along the Riverway and some carry the bacteria that cause the disease.
- Know how to identify poison ivy and avoid contact.

What do the St. Croix River and the country of Costa Rica have in common?

Many of the same species of birds are found in both places, although at different times of year. These birds spend winter in Costa Rica and then migrate hundreds of miles north in the spring and summer to nest and breed. Many nest along this stretch of the St. Croix!

Due to this important connection, Costa Rican national parks on the Osa Peninsula have a "sister park" agreement with fourteen U.S. national parks, including the St. Croix National Scenic Riverway, to coordinate public awareness, education, habitat restoration, and protection of these areas.

Discover clean water, lush landscapes, and quiet solitude along the St. Croix National Scenic Riverway, a national park that with your help protects over 200 miles of wild and scenic river corridor.
