

Enjoy the River Safely

- Wear your life jacket. Make sure your child wears a life jacket!
- Use alcohol responsibly. Many river accidents involve alcohol.
- Wear sunscreen, sunglasses, and a hat to prevent sunburn. Water reflects the rays of the sun giving you a double dose of ultraviolet light.
- Avoid trees that have fallen in the river. They can catch and overturn your vessel.
- Don't jump from cliffs, bridges, or trees.
- Protect your feet with river shoes, water sandals, or old shoes. Fish hooks, glass, and rocks can injure your feet.
- Bring your own drinking water. Treat river water before drinking to avoid giardia, a serious stomach irritant.
- Blastomycosis is a fungal infection that is commonly contracted by dogs and sometimes by humans. Avoid digging in moist soils.
- Check for ticks often and know the symptoms of Lyme disease. Deer ticks are common along the Riverway and some carry the bacteria that cause the disease.
- Know how to identify poison ivy and avoid contact.

National Park Service St. Croix National Scenic Riverway

St. Croix River Map 7: Highway 70 to Highway 8

As logging camps finished harvesting the great white pines in the St. Croix Valley, the resulting landscape could be described as decimated. However, with the forest canopy removed, sunlight could penetrate to the sandy soil below, creating a perfect environment for blueberries.

Blueberries were so abundant that many local families made money picking them through the summer months. A branch railroad line was established in 1878 by the Grantsburg, Rush City & St. Cloud Railroad that crossed the St. Croix River at what is now Old Railroad Landing. Dubbed the “Blueberry Train,” many of its Minnesota passengers used this train to get to the blueberry fields around Grantsburg, Wisconsin.

Discover clean water, lush landscapes, and quiet solitude along the St. Croix National Scenic Riverway, a national park that with your help protects 255 miles of wild and scenic river corridor.
