Notes

You will be following the Rapidan River upstream from where it leaves Shenandoah National Park for the last time. Fish, swimming holes, and level areas to camp abound. Rapidan Camp is the historic retreat built for President Hoover; the buildings and exhibits may be open for a self-guided tour. The circuit back will take you on the AT and over Hazeltop Mountain, down into the mountain laurel thickets at Laurel Prong, then up Jones Mountain where you can see (or even stay in) an old mountain cabin. (Visit <http://potomacappalachian.org> for information on staying in Jones Mountain Cabin.)

Options

Two-night options – 7.5 to 10.5 miles

Hike both days one and two on the first day, camping on upper Mill Prong Trail or on the AT. Or hike in the other direction – day four on your first day, day three on your second day, and days one and two on your last day.
