Notes

This trip is for advanced backcountry campers skilled in navigation and finding pristine campsites. You'll find many people hiking and camping on Jones Run and Doyles River, and to a lesser extent on Wildcat Ridge and Riprap, on the weekends. Try to plan your trip so that you are not camping on these trails on a Friday or Saturday. This is truly a highlight hike of the southern district in Shenandoah National Park, and with some planning, you'll enjoy solitude as well.

The multiple stream crossings on Big Run Portal and NFMR can be knee to waist high when the water is up. Beware in the spring and after heavy rains.
