SIXTH KENTUCKY VOLUNTEER INFANTRY.

The 6th Kentucky Infantry was organized at Camp Sigel, Jefferson county, Kentucky, in December, 1861, under Colonel Walter C. Whitaker, and was mustered into the United States service on the 24th December, 1861, by Major W. H. Sidell, United States Mustering Officer. Immediately after organization it was assigned to the Department of the Cumberland, and entered upon active duty. It was commanded by Colonel Walter C. Whitaker until June 30th, 1863, when he was promoted Brigadier General, and Lieutenant Colonel George T. Shackelford was commissioned Colonel. In all the early engagements in Tennessee and on the Atlanta campaign, this regiment took an active part, and in the battles of Shiloh, Stone River, and Chickamauga, suffered severely in killed and wounded. By reference to the casualty report herewith, it will be seen that the number actually killed in battle exceeds ten per cent. of the number originally enlisted. It has been the recipient of frequent orders of praise for undaunted gallantry, soldierly conduct, and discipline. Throughout its whole enlistment its achievements were brilliant and without reproach, and equal to the best volunteer regiment in the army.

It has participated in the following named battles, in which loss was sustained, viz: Shiloh, Stone River, Readyville, Tennessee, Chickamauga, Mission Ridge, Altoona Mountain, Resaca, Kenesaw Mountain, Dallas, Rocky Face Ridge, Peachtree Creek, Adairsville, and Atlanta.

It was mustered out at Nashville, Tennessee, on the 2d day of November, 1864, the recruits and veterans being transferred to the 4th Kentucky Mounted Infantry.
