My dear father!

As you stated in your letter, dated Nov. 28th 62, St. Louis, Mo., you did put on the very same day a package with my direction into the so-called „Adam's Express Office" at St. Louis, Mo. & paid for to Nashville, Tenn.

I have been for four times already at „Adam's Express Office" at Nashville, but did not receive the package yet. I am tired of it to make the trip from Camp & return so very often.

Therefore I wish you would order the package to be returned to you immediately, before it got lost in that disorderly concern.

If they fail to do so, you will please give me notice so to enable me to take suitable steps for the recovery of my property & to make complaints to proper authority.

I am very respectfully your obedient son

* At the time of my muster-out, after the capture of Atlanta, I found myself too much war-worn, and therefore unable to take advantage of the liberal Order issued by the War-Department, under authority of which the Engineer Officers of the Volunteers could enter the Engineer-Corps of the Regular Army; which otherwise would have been my greatest ambition and desire.

The undersigned would most respectfully claim pension for the following reason, to-wit:

My health always had been in an Excellent condition, until the winter of 1863 & 1864.

Immediately after the siege of Chattanooga was raised by the series of Battles about that place, our Command was directed to Knoxville, Tennessee, and thence eastwardly along the Railroad to Strawberry Plains in pursuit of the enemy, and during this campaign it was, when my good health was broken, on account of the roughness and inclemency of the weather in that remarkably bitter cold winter; In such a mountainous region we were obliged to live on short rations, as we had to the greatest part, to subsist on the barren country, which in addition had been variously traversed by large bodies of troops of the Union Army and that of the Enemy, and being actually ravaged by the enemy immediately before us.

In consequence of the great Exposures and privations of this most severe campaign I am now (estimately) suffering from Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Erysipelas, Hemorrhoids, and thus my health and physical ability is changed to infirmity.

In the same campaign, on January 1st 1864, my feet were frozen, in consequence of which I am suffering Every winter from inflammation and great pain; and my Eyesight and hearing is greatly failing, also in consequence of the injuries mentioned during the above mentioned campaigns, for all of which I would respectfully claim pension.
