When we went back to bury our dead there was a dog wood right behind where we laid with seven balls in it & a hickory about one foot through had fourteen balls & piece of shell in it, the trees look more spotted than Jacobs cattle it really look like it myself think any of us could escape such a storm of lead & iron we went into battle with 38 men officers & all in the engagement one 6th were killed & wounded nearly all had balls through their clothes, a ball cut my cap band about half in two I picked it up brought it out & am wearing now

I Dwelled with the Capt now when there is always plenty the rest of the boys have had times hard sleeping & eating
