World Heritage Sites in the United States

Preserved for All Humanity

With over 1,000 properties, the World Heritage List shows a shared global commitment to preserve the world’s most important natural and cultural sites. Learn more about the World Heritage Sites in the United States, described here with selection criteria in Roman numerals (details below), location, inscription year, and websites. The Passport booklet World Heritage Sites in the United States can be purchased at www.eparks.com. For more on the World Heritage List, who announces in Latin: patrimonia...