

FOREWORD

This volume of proclamations and orders issued by the President of the United States and the Secretary of the Interior has been prepared so that these documents may be available in ready reference form. This publication; the volume of Laws Relating to the National Park Service, published in 1933; and the first printed supplement thereto, published this past year, contain the basic legal authority for all operations of the Service and the establishment of areas in the National Park System.

NEWTON B. DRURY,
Director, National Park Service.
