Photograph 1 This image shows the port (left) side of the burned-out Goldenrod Showboat, from a distance, on the banks of the Illinois River the morning after being destroyed by fire. Photographer Jake Medford, Historic Riverboat Preservation Association, Kampschill, Illinois, October 2017.
Photograph 2 This image is a closer depiction of the port (left) side of the burned-out Goldenrod Showboat, on the banks of the Illinois River the morning after being destroyed by fire. Smoke continues to rise from the hull. Photographer Jake Medford, Historic Riverboat Preservation Association, Kampsville, Illinois, October 2017.
Photograph 3 This image shows the bow (front) and port (left) sides of the burned-out Goldenrod Showboat on the banks of the Illinois River. Taken the morning after being destroyed by fire, debris litters the ground on the side of the boat. Photographer Jake Medford, Historic Riverboat Preservation Association, Kampsville, Illinois, October 2017.
Photograph 4 This image shows the starboard (right) side of the burned-out Goldenrod Showboat on the banks of the Illinois River. Taken from near the stern (rear) of the boat the morning after being destroyed by fire, debris from the fire litters the ground on the side of the boat. Image is taken from the Photographer Jake Medford, Historic Riverboat Preservation Association, Kamps ville, Illinois, October 2017.