REPOSITORY AGREEMENT Between the NATIONAL PARK SERVICE and the UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS MEDICAL BRANCH

This Agreement (the "Agreement"), effective as of the date of the last approving signature ("Effective Date"), is made and entered into between the University of Texas Medical Branch, an educational and research institution that operates the World Reference Center for Emerging Viruses and Arboviruses (WRCEVA), located at 301 University Blvd., Galveston, TX 77555-0609 ("UTMB"), and the National Park Service ("NPS").

I. BACKGROUND AND OBJECTIVES

NPS Specimens collected in NPS units pursuant to permits issued under 36 CFR. 2.5 are periodically deposited on loan in non-NPS living collections, such as culture or stock collections. These collections are housed within institutions that acquire, preserve, and distribute biological samples and related information, technology, and intellectual property to research scientists in academia and industry. Loan of NPS Specimens and Material to such custodians requires NPS approval in accordance with the standardized NPS Research and Collecting Permit ("Research Permit") terms and conditions.

The WRCEVA program maintains the Emerging Viruses and Arboviruses Reference Collection and provides reagents and support for investigations of virus outbreaks throughout the world. This international program identifies and characterizes numerous arboviruses and/or other suspected emerging viruses spread by mosquitoes, ticks, and other insects and animals to people and domestic animals. It also investigates the epidemiology of the diseases these viruses cause. The repository within the WRCEVA stores over 5,000 classified arthropod-borne, rodent-borne, and other zoonotic and human viruses, as well as complementary sera (for example, hyperimmune mouse ascites fluids), diagnostic antigens, arthropod cell lines, hybridoma cells, and reagents (for example, viral nucleic acids).

The objective of this Agreement is to allow UTMB to accept on loan and establish a collection of NPS Specimens and NPS Material designated as the National Park Service Special Collection (the "Collection") and to distribute "Material" deposited or derived from those NPS Specimens to the scientific community under the terms of an NPS "Material Transfer Agreement" consistent with the NPS Scientific Research and Collecting Permit terms and conditions for the collected NPS Specimen.

MASTER LIST OF DEPOSITED NPS SPECIMENS AND MATERIAL

THE CATALOG OF THE NPS SPECIAL COLLECTION AT THE WORLD REFERENCE CENTER FOR EMERGING VIRUSES AND ARBOVIRUSES
UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS MEDICAL BRANCH

Instructions: Upon receipt of NPS Specimens and/or Material that NPS has approved for deposit at UTMB either by designation as the repository in the applicable Scientific Research and Collecting Permit or by completion of the NPS Special Collection Deposit Request Form, UTMB adds the new Specimens and/or Material (including the UTMB inventory number) to this Master List of Deposited NPS Specimens and Material. UTMB submits it to the NPS park permit coordinator. The park curator assigns the NPS Catalog numbers for the deposited NPS Specimens and/or Material (Living Collections) and returns the document to UTMB with a copy to the NPS Key Official for the NPS-UTMB Agreement. The updated List constitutes a revised Appendix 1. NPS completes a loan record for tracking purposes.
