Photo Contest Judging Criteria – Judging is weighted as listed below

Park Representation (accounts for 50% of the total score)

This is the most important judging criteria as it is very important that the image represents Theodore Roosevelt National Park.

- When you look at the photo can you say with 100% certainty it was taken in the park?
- Is the photo one that would make someone say, “I want to visit that park?”

Composition (accounts for 20% of the total score)

In a strong photo, there should be a sense of overall organization. While entire books are written on composition, at the most basic level, composition is the process of establishing a sense of order for the elements within an image

- Are the items of interest placed well in the photo?
- Are there distracting elements?

Creativity (accounts for 20% of the total score)

In short, taking a fresh look at and lending the photographer's unique thinking and vision to any subject.

- Is the subject matter pictured in a unique way or is a common item shown from an interesting point-of-view?
- Does the photo demonstrate originality?
- Has the photographer used light in interesting ways?
- Does it have that wow factor?

Technical Quality (accounts for 10% of the total score)

With the exception of photos that either intentionally show motion or are taken as soft-focus images (such as a portrait), tack-sharp focus is one of the first things that everyone notices about an image. The sharpest point of the picture should pinpoint what the photographer sees as the most important aspect of the image.

- Is the photo in focus?
- Is lighting in balance?
- Does the color appear natural and/or does it help set the mood of the image?
