Ladies' Night

The Roosevelt women were a fascinating and feisty bunch with strengths, struggles, and achievements all their own! Let's listen to their voices and remember stories the history books forgot.

National Park Invaders

Come find out about invasive species. What are they? How do they spread? What is being done to stop them?

Walk on the Wild Side

What do you think defines a wilderness? Come find out how American attitudes towards these places have changed over time, why it was an important part of our nation's history, and how it continues to benefit us today.

Biological Bad Boys

Get ready for a frank talk about the Badlands' dangerous, disgusting, and deranged plants and animals. Discuss why we might hate them and yet why they are so cool.

Dirt!

What do bison, prairie grass, bacteria, and the badlands have in common? They rely on dirt! Join us to learn how our dirt makes this place special.

Burning the Midnight Oil

Romantic dreamers, oil drillers, birds, bats, and even dung beetles perform their jobs under starry skies. Explore how development in North Dakota could affect creatures of the night who stay up late burning the midnight oil.

Time Zone Alert!

The North Unit operates on Central Time (CT) and the South Unit operates on Mountain Time (MT).
In the North Unit, cell phones sometimes display the incorrect time.
