COPYRIGHT AND RESTRICTIONS

The copyright law of the United States (Title 17, United States Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted materials. The various state privacy acts govern the use of materials that document private individuals, groups, and corporations.

Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a reproduction if the document does not infringe the privacy rights of an individual, group, or corporation. These specified conditions of authorized use include:

- non-commercial and non-profit study, scholarship, or research, or teaching
- criticism, commentary, or news reporting
- as a NPS preservation or security copy
- as a research copy for deposit in another institution

If a user later uses a copy or reproduction for purposes in excess of "fair use," the user may be personally liable for copyright, privacy, or publicity infringement. This institution's permission to obtain a photographic, xerographic, digital, or other copy of a document doesn't indicate permission to publish, exhibit, perform, reproduce, sell, distribute, or prepare derivative works from this document without first obtaining permission from the copyright holder and from any private individual, group, or corporation shown or otherwise recorded.

Permission to publish, exhibit, perform, reproduce, prepare derivative works from, sell, or otherwise distribute the item must be obtained by the user separately in writing from the holder of the original copyright (or if the creator is dead from his/her heirs) as well as from any individual(s), groups, or corporations whose name, image, recorded words, or private information (e.g., employment information) may be reproduced in the source material. The holder of the original copyright isn't necessarily the National Park Service. The National Park Service is not legally liable for copyright, privacy, or publicity infringement when materials are wrongfully used after being provided to researchers for "fair use."

This institution reserves the right to refuse to accept a copying order if fulfillment of the order is judged in violation of copyright or federal or state privacy or publicity law.

HISTORY

- 1872 Yellowstone National Park created
- 1877 Nez Perce War. Members of the Nez Perce tribe are pursued through Yellowstone by the U.S. Army, have several skirmishes with park visitors and take some of them prisoner. This may be the only war fought within an existing (American) national park.
- 1886 The beginning of the Army administration of the park. Captain Moses Harris, commanding fifty soldiers of Troop M, First Cavalry, arrives at the park and establishes Camp Sheridan at Mammoth Hot Springs.
- 1891 Construction begins on the buildings that would become Fort Yellowstone, replacing Camp Sheridan.
- 1894 The Lacey Act finally gave park officials the authority to arrest and prosecute law violators in the park. This legislation became a cornerstone for future conservation policies.
- 1913 The last building constructed at Fort Yellowstone, the chapel, is completed.
- 1916 National Park Service created
- 1916 Soldiers who were members of the Yellowstone Park Detachment, and desired to remain in the park, were discharged from the Army and appointed rangers in the National Park Service. After complaints from the public and elected officials, soldiers return to duty at Yellowstone in June 1917 and the initial ranger force was dismissed from service.
- 1918 Final abandonment of Fort Yellowstone on October 31.

SCOPE AND CONTENT

Army Era Records 1881-1931 (bulk dates: 1886-1918)

VOLUME 77 LF

DESCRIPTION This collection contains materials related to the United States Army's administration of Yellowstone National Park

from 1886 to 1918.

The records mostly concern the Army's management of the park, not on military activities, such as the construction of park infrastructure like buildings, roads and trails, concessions, permits, poaching, wildlife, and park appropriations.

Researchers may find these records valuable on the following topics: the relationship between the Army and the Department of Interior (and other Federal agencies) in managing Yellowstone; the development of administrative procedures and programs which were later adopted and continued by the National Park Service; earlier conceptualization of wildlife conservation; and the development of concessions in national parks. Other areas of interest include crime (e.g. stagecoach robberies), and the challenging relationship between park officials and concessionaires like E. C. Waters.

ORGANIZATION This collection is organized into five series:

Series I, Pre-1909 Correspondence Files

Series II, Post-1908 Scheduled Files

Series III, Soldier Stations and Snowshoe Cabins Records Series IV, Scouts and Superinendents Office Diaries

Series V, Fort Yellowstone Cemetery Internment Records

PROVENANCE These records were left in the park when the Army departed

Yellowstone in 1918 and were largely ignored until rediscovered by Aubrey Haines. Haines began working as a park ranger in Yellowstone in 1938, was appointed records disposal officer in the late 1950s, and became the park's first official historian in 1960. Beginning in 1961, he cataloged and indexed a portion of these records marking them with a consecutive number stamp. In the past this group of records has often been called the "First 4,000" by staff and researchers.

Late in the 1960s, a grant was received from the Hill Family Foundation of St. Paul, Minnesota, to microfilm pre-National Park Service records now found in this collection. The microfilming was completed in 1972.

In the early 1970s Paul Schullery continued Haines' work and stated that he cataloged and indexed all incoming correspondence received during the first eleven years of the Army administration, or from 1886 to 1897. In order to accomplish this task, Schullery also assigned each document a number, writing on each one with a pencil. This group of records has often been referred to by staff and researchers as the "First 10,000." (For more information, see Schullery's 1976 master's thesis, "The Yellowstone Archives: Past, Present, and Future").

This record group is accessioned by the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) and placed on deposit at its affiliated repository, the Yellowstone National Park Archives.

SERIES DESCRIPTIONS

I. Pre-1909 Correspondence Files

This series contains official Army (and some Department of Interior) correspondence and holographs from various individuals and companies. The handling of correspondence followed the established protocols of the time. For instance, letters sent and received were typically transcribed by the post adjutant's staff in bound volumes. Topics include but are not limited to: animal and timber harvesting; automobiles; buildings; cattle; Chittenden's employees; complaints; concessions; expenditures; fencing; fires; fish; grazing; law enforcement; Native Americans; poaching; roads; scouts; stages; telephones and telegraphs; trails; Wylie and Company; E. C. Waters; Yellowstone Boat Company; Yellowstone Park Association's transportation and hotels.

This series also contains some pre-Army (1882-1886) records pertaining to the early civilian administration of the park.

II. Post-1908 Scheduled Files

Series II contains official correspondence and letters and are arranged by the Army's numeric records scheme which was instituted in 1909 (see Appendix A). The topics include but are not limited to: animals; automobiles; buildings; complaints; employees; expenditures; grazing; fencing; licenses; permits; annual reports; roads and trails; telephone and telegraphs; timber; and undesirables.

This series also contains some earlier records (i.e. before the new 1909 records schedule), as well as some post-Army (1918-1924) records regarding the park's administration by the National Park Service.

III. Soldier Stations and Snowshoe Cabins Records

Series III contains daily, weekly, and monthly logbooks and reports for the soldier stations which housed small detachments throughout the park. By the end of the Army era, detachments were stationed at sixteen locations. These buildings became the ranger stations of the opening years of the National Park Service administration. Also within this series are records for Knowles Cabin and Swan Lake (snowshoe cabins?) as well as circulars and information about cabin supplies. See Appendix C for a list of soldier stations.

IV. Scouts and Superintendents Office Diaries

This series contains the daily diaries of Army scouts (civilians) employed to patrol the park. Typical entries include observations on weather, wildlife, distances travelled, and unusual activities.

This series also contains the two diaries from the Superintendent's Office and includes some pre-1886 (pre-Army) entries regarding Department of the Interior property inventories and appropriations.

V. Fort Yellowstone Cemetery Internment Records

Series V contains records about burials at the Fort Yellowstone Cemetery including the names and other information about the individuals interred at the cemetery.
