No historical traffic information available at this time. Conditions in the Glacier Point corridor will likely be similar to Yosemite Valley and Wawona.

Yosemite Valley: "The Valley" continues to be warm and dry. Traffic is expected to be light to moderate during the week with slightly heavier traffic over the weekend. Arrive by 9am to minimize your wait at the entrance stations. Parking may be limited in Yosemite Valley in the afternoon.

Tuolumne Meadows: Cooler temperatures and the promise of afternoon rain showers draw visitors to the high country. Moderate to heavy traffic volumes between 9am and 2pm over Tioga Pass can be expected this week – especially on Sunday. Expect 30 minute delays during the day and 1 hour delays at night between Crane Flat and White Wolf due to road construction.

Wawona and Mariposa Grove: Enjoy limitless scenic vistas while visiting the historic Wawona District! Light to moderate traffic is expected all week with the heaviest between 11am and 1pm on the weekend. Consider arriving before 9am for the best parking spots.

Glacier Point: Visitors can anticipate moderate traffic, especially on Saturday and Sunday between 11am and 1pm. Expect some short delays and congestion over the weekend on the Glacier Point Road and vicinity. Remember to bring your camera to capture some of most panoramic and beautiful vistas in the world!

* Predicted traffic ratings are subject to a variety of influences. These predictions may vary widely as a result of weather changes, road construction, visitor use management actions, when holidays fall during the week, vehicle accidents, etcetera.
