We strongly recommend moving around the east end of Yosemite Valley on foot or bike if possible. On the map below, the numbers in the white circles show the average walking time between each destination, represented by the red circles.
Yosemite Valley

Yosemite Valley, open year-round, is world-famous for its impressive waterfalls, cliffs, and unusual rock formations. Get there via Highway 41/Wawona Road from Fresno, Highway 140/El Portal Road from Merced, Highway 120 west/Big Oak Flat Road from Manteca, and (during summer) via the Tioga Road/Highway 120 east from Lee Vining. Yosemite Valley is home to massive cliff faces like El Capitan and Half Dome, plunging waterfalls including the tallest in North America, and attractive meadows. While Yosemite Falls slows to a trickle by August, a moderate hike will bring you to impressive Vernal and Nevada Falls. Walk to Mirror Lake, where you will see reflections of Half Dome. Gaze up at El Capitan, a massive granite monolith that stands 3,593 feet from base to summit. Whether you explore the valley by foot, bike, car, or tour, you will behold scenery that will leave you breathless and eager to see what’s around the next corner.

Glacier Point Road

Glacier Point, an overlook with a commanding view of Yosemite Valley, Half Dome, and Yosemite’s high country, is located 30 miles (a one-hour drive) from Yosemite Valley or Wawona. To get there from either of these places, take the Wawona Road (Highway 41) to Chinquapin, then turn onto Glacier Point Road. At Glacier Point, a short, paved, and wheelchair-accessible trail takes you to an exhilarating—some might say unnerving—view 3,214 feet down to Yosemite Valley below.

Wawona and Mariposa Grove

The Mariposa Grove of Giant Sequoias is located 36 miles (1 ¼ hours) south of Yosemite Valley via the Wawona Road (Highway 41), two miles from the park’s South Entrance. The nearby Yosemite History Center in Wawona is a collection of historic buildings associated with people and events that shaped the national park idea in Yosemite.

Tioga Road and Tuolumne Grove

Tioga Road offers a 39-mile scenic drive past forests, meadows, lakes, and granite domes. It is usually open from late May or early June through November. The road’s elevation ranges from 6,200 feet to nearly 10,000 feet. The White Wolf area, midway across the park, is the starting point for day hikes to Lukens Lake and Harden Lake. To see giant sequoias, park at the Tuolumne Grove parking area on the Tioga Road, and walk one steep mile down to the grove. Or park at Merced Grove trailhead on Big Oak Flat Road and walk 1.5 steep miles down to the grove. These groves are smaller than the more-famous Mariposa Grove, but are quieter and off-limits to vehicles. Remember, walking down is easier than walking back up.

Tuolumne Meadows

Tuolumne Meadows provides a glimpse of the High Sierra. The Wild and Scenic Tuolumne River winds through broad sub-alpine meadows surrounded by even higher granite domes and peaks. It is the jumping off place for countless hikes, whether you venture out for a day or a week. Stop at the Tuolumne Meadows information center to find out about hikes to Cathedral Lakes, Elizabeth Lake, Lembert Dome, or along the Tuolumne River through Lyell Canyon. See page 6 for hiking suggestions.

Hetch Hetchy

Hetch Hetchy Reservoir, a source of drinking water and hydroelectric power for the City of San Francisco, is home to spectacular scenery and the starting point for many wilderness trails. The area’s low elevation makes it a good place to hike in autumn and winter. The Hetch Hetchy Reservoir is located 40 miles (1 ¼ hour) from Yosemite Valley via the Big Oak Flat Road (Highway 120W) and the Evergreen Road. The Hetch Hetchy Road is open from 8am to 5pm. Vehicles and/or trailers over 25 feet long, and RV’s and other vehicles over 8 feet wide are not permitted on the narrow, winding Hetch Hetchy Road.

New Exhibition
Starting Smart: An Evolution of Photography
August 8, 2021 - October 2, 2021

The smartphone has become a dominant means of photographic interpretation and exploration. Rarely do we expect people to be separated from their phones, and by proxy, a camera. But more than a mere record keeper or selfie factory, the smartphone camera is a natural “next step” in photography as our culture has become more mobile and social—with as much creative potential as its large format or SLR predecessors.

Opening at The Ansel Adams Gallery on August 8, Opening Smart: An Evolution of Photography will feature images made by smartphones and printed as fine art photographs finished in gold leaf, platinum, cyanotype and pigment. Also on display will be a copy of the first photograph ever made in Yosemite by Charles L. Weed in 1859, and one of the first digital photographs of Yosemite made by Ted Orland in 1986. A monitor on hand will also feature a rotating slideshow of work by YOU, the park guest. Please visit www.anseladams.com/smart to learn how your own smartphone image could be on display in our gallery in Yosemite.

Tuolumne Grove
The trailhead for the Tuolumne Grove, which consists of approximately 25 sequoias, is near the intersection of the Big Oak Flat and Tioga roads at Crane Flat. The former route of the Big Oak Flat Road leads downhill from the parking area into the grove. The trail drops 500 feet in one mile. The trip is moderately strenuous on the uphill portion. Within the Tuolumne Grove there is an easy, half-mile nature trail. There is no potable water available. Be sure to bring drinking water with you.

Merced Grove
Yosemite’s quietest stand of sequoias is the Merced Grove, a group of approximately 20 big trees accessible only on foot. It’s a three-mile round-trip hike (about three hours) into the grove. The trail drops down 1.5 miles making this a moderately strenuous hike. There is no potable water at the parking area or down in the grove. Be sure to bring drinking water with you. The grove is located 3.5 miles north of Crane Flat and 4.5 miles south of the Big Oak Flat Entrance along the Big Oak Flat Road (Highway 120 West). The trail is marked by a sign and a post labeled B-10. Tuolumne Grove.

To access the grove, is on foot from the Welcome Plaza near the park’s south entrance. This requires an additional four miles (6.5 km) of walking round-trip to the grove. To access the grove, park at the Mariposa Grove Parking Area.

Things to know before you go:

- Swimming is not permitted in the Hetch Hetchy reservoir or in Emerald Pool above Vernal Fall.
- Stay away from swiftly-moving water. Choose swimming areas carefully and swim only during low water conditions.
- Always supervise children closely.
- Avoid areas of whitewater, where streams flow over rocky obstructions. Never swim or wade upstream from a waterfall, even if the water appears shallow and calm. Each year, unsuspecting visitors are swept over waterfalls to their deaths when swimming in these areas.
- If you plan to hike or backpack above 8,000 feet, it may still be winter-like conditions. Expect snowy, flooded, and/or muddy conditions. Check current conditions at a wilderness or visitor center before starting hike.

Zero Landfill Initiative: Propane Cylinders
Exciting news, campers: You can now buy reusable, returnable Little Kamper propane canisters in Yosemite, including at The Village Store, Curry Village Gift Shop, Mountain Shop, Wawona Store and El Portal Market. Here’s how it works:
1. Purchase a canister.
2. Use up the fuel.
3. Bring the canister back to any store that participates in the Little Kamper propane exchange program (which uses green Flameking 1 lb. tanks).
4. Trade in your empty canister for a full one at a lower price.

As part of the Zero Landfill Initiative, Yosemite Conservancy, the National Park Service and Yosemite Hospitality are working together to reduce improper disposal of single-use propane canisters and send less waste to our local landfill. Help us by doing your part!

* This project was made possible in part by a grant from the National Park Foundation through the generous support of Subaru of America.

Camping Reservations
For the 2021 season, campgrounds that will be open are Upper, Lower and North Pines, Wawona, Bridalveil Creek and Tuolumne Meadows. Camp 4 will be available via a one-day-in-advance lottery on recreation.gov, and each site will be assigned to only one party.

Protecting yourself...

Keep yourself safe while exploring your park

There are many ways to experience the wilderness of Yosemite. While the forces of nature can create unexpected hazardous conditions, with a little common sense and some pre-planning, you can minimize the risks associated with many activities.

ENJOYING YOSEMITE

Summer is a popular time to visit Yosemite, and for good reason; daylight hours are long and the weather is usually warm. Plant and animal life are vibrant. High country trails that have been hiding for months are now waiting to be hiked and the waterfalls are still full. However, summer conditions present unique challenges which you must consider to ensure your outdoor enjoyment.

WEATHER

Dehydration and exhaustion can occur during any season but particularly during the summer heat. Always carry more water than you need. Without rationing water, make sure your hike or outdoor activity is half over before your water is half gone.

Prevent dehydrating by sipping lots of water throughout the day and frequently eating salty, easy-to-digest snacks. Thunderstorm season is also approaching. Remember, there is no safe place outside when you can hear thunder. Follow the saying, “when thunder roars, go indoors.” If you cannot reach a building or car (with a hard top), hike down and away from ridges and outcroppings. Do not be the tallest object or near a tall object.

YOSEMITE’S TRAILS

Yosemite’s 800 miles of trails pass through natural areas and endure all the forces of nature including flooding, fire, erosion, and slides. Trails may be damaged from weather and past fires. Snow can be present over higher elevation trails. Always carry a good topo map and compass (GPS optional) and know your location, including your back route, in case you need to turn around.

YOSEMITE’S ROADS

Yosemite’s roads are as dangerous as the nature that have been hiding for months are now waiting to be hiked and the waterfalls are still full. However, summer conditions present unique challenges which you must consider to ensure your outdoor enjoyment.

FOR ALL SEASONS

• Let someone know – always leave travel and hiking plans, including intended routes and estimated time of return, with a trusted person.
• Stay on established trails
• River, streams and lakes can be hazardous all year. Maintain awareness and crossing water should only be attempted where it is safe.
• Regardless of season you still need to stay hydrated and snack frequently! If you are sweating, replace lost salts with salty snacks.
• 10 hiking essentials – includes sunglasses, sunscreen, a signaling mirror and whistle.

HANTAVIRUS INFORMATION

Hantavirus Pulmonary Syndrome (HPS) is a rare but serious disease spread to humans via the droppings, urine, or saliva of infected rodents. Infected rodents have been found throughout the U.S. You may come into close proximity to rodents during your visit. Here are some ways to protect yourself:

• If staying in guest lodging, tell housekeeping staff if you see evidence of mice.
• Keep doors to guest lodging shut.
• Do not bring food into your cabin that is not in a sealed container.
• If camping or backpacking, do not pitch tents near rodent burrows or droppings.

For more information visit: http://www.nps.gov/yose/planyourvisit/yoursafety.htm.

PLAGUE

Plague is an infectious bacterial disease carried by squirrels, chipmunks and other rodents and their fleas. To protect yourself, never feed wildlife, avoid dropping food when eating outside, avoid pitching a tent near rodent burrows, wear insect repellent with DEET, and immediately tell a park ranger if you see a dead animal. For more information visit: http://www.nps.gov/yose/planyourvisit/yoursafety.htm.

Wilderness Etiquette: How to Poop in the Woods

• When nature calls, make sure you are 200 feet away from any water source.
• Carry a trowel so you can dig a hole in the dirt that is at least 6 inches deep so you’re able to bury your waste.
• In the winter, human waste still needs to be buried 6 inches deep in soil not snow or carried out in a WAG bag.
• Pack out toilet paper, don’t bury it or try to burn it.

RIVERS AND STREAMS

Yosemite’s streams are a huge temptation for the curious, the photographer, and the overheated and weary hiker simply wanting to cool tired feet. Do not be fooled! Yosemite’s water is deceptively dangerous and unforgiving. Visitors are strongly urged to enjoy moving or falling water from a safe distance. Please: Do NOT leave the safety of the trail.

Keep Bears Wild

With warmer spring weather, bears emerge hungry from hibernation. Please, keep Yosemite’s black bears wild and alive, while protecting yourself and your property.

STORE YOUR FOOD PROPERLY

The typical daily diet of most bears may consist of 4,000 to 20,000 calories worth of grasses, acorns, and grubs. It's easier for a bear to eat the thousands of calories of food in an ice chest than it is to spend all day nibbling on grasses. Their incredible sense of smell allows them to detect things we can't, which helps them find food—a black bear can smell a dead deer three miles away. To top it off, bears have excellent vision and see in color, so they recognize ice chests, grocery bags, and other food containers as potential food sources.

DRIVE THE SPEED LIMIT

The most common human-related cause of death for a black bear in Yosemite is being hit by a car. Slow down! Driving too fast is almost always the cause of these accidental deaths. Please report bear sightings by calling (209) 372-0322.

IF YOU SEE A BEAR...

...stay away. Keep a safe distance from the bear. You may not see a bear during your visit because they naturally avoid people. However, if you see one in a developed area (like a campground or parking lot), act immediately to scare it away. Make noise and yell as loud as possible. If there are more than one person, stand together to present a more intimidating figure, but do not surround the bear. If you see a bear anywhere else, consider yourself lucky—but keep your distance (at least 50 yards, or about the distance made by four shuttle buses parked end to end). If you get too close, you will be causing the bear to become used to being around people. Bears that become comfortable around humans lose their natural fear of us and may become too aggressive. When that happens, they sometimes have to be killed. Report bear sightings and incidents to the Save-A-Bear hotline (209)372-0322 or by emailing yose_bear_mgmt@nps.gov. For more information about bears in Yosemite please visit www.KeepBearsWild.org.

How to Store Food

“Food” includes any item with a scent, regardless of packaging. This includes items you may not consider food, such as canned goods, bottles, drinks, soap, cosmetics, toiletries, trash, ice chests (even when empty), and unwashed dishes.

LOCATION FOOD STORAGE WHY?
Your Vehicle
You may store food in your car (both windows closed) only during daylight hours. Do not store food in your car after dark: use a food locker. Remember to clear your car of food wrappers, baby wipes, and crumbs in baby seats.

Your Campsite or Tent Cabin
Homemade food stored in food lockers—out in your tent or tent cabin. A food locker is available at each campsite and tent cabin. Food may be stored out of sight in hard-sided RVs with windows closed.

Frisco, Yo-Yo,
or Tent Cabin
Bear-proof food containers are required throughout the Yosemite Wilderness. Hanging food is prohibited in Yosemite. In Yosemite and the southern Sierra, bear canisters are the only effective and proven method of preventing bears from getting human food.

Picnic Areas & on the Trails
Do not leave food unattended. Always keep food within arm’s reach. Don’t turn your back to your food.

Backpacking in the Wilderness

Pack it in, pack it out: Pack out toilet paper, hygiene products, leftover food, trash, and litter from campsites, rest areas, and trails. Leave no trace!

Clean water is a precious resource for all living beings -

You can protect these waters and this pristine watershed which supplies drinking water for 2.7 million people.

- Protect fragile plants and soils: Trampling vegetation and compacting soils affects the movement and cleanliness of water.
- Walk and camp on durable surfaces: Use established trails, campsites, rock, and gravel to minimize your impact. Walk single file and keep groups small.
- Pack it in, pack it out: Pack out toilet paper, hygiene products, leftover food, trash, and litter from campsites, rest areas, and trails. Leave no trace!
- Wash yourself or dishes 200 feet away from water sources.
- Use restroom facilities or bury human waste. Bury human waste in a hole at least 6 inches (15 centimeters) deep and at least 200 feet (60 meters) from streams and lakes.

- Using metal detectors
- Driving vehicles into meadows
- Biking off of paved roads
- Camping outside of designated campgrounds
- Possession of weapons inside federal facilities
- Possessing or using marijuana, including medical marijuana
- Operating an unmanned aircraft system ("drone")

If you see activities that could harm people or park resources, jot down any descriptions or a vehicle license plate number and call (209) 379-1992.

E-BIKES

E-bikes with two or three wheels, fully operable pedals, and electric motors less than 750 watts (1 horsepower) are allowed everywhere bicycles are allowed and must adhere to a 15mph speed limit.

FISHING

Stream and river fishing in Tuolumne Meadows and Yosemite Valley to Parkline (Merced River) is open through November 15. You must have a valid California Fishing License with you. All lakes and reservoirs are open to fishing year-round.

Celebrating 50 Years: Field Seminars in Yosemite

Story by Pete Devine

In 1971, the National Park Service was a spry 55, and Yosemite had been a national park for eight decades (and a geologic wonder for millions of years). A then-record 2.3 million people passed through the park’s gates that year. They came for many reasons — to sight-see, hike, camp, climb, bird, picnic, sketch — but were perhaps linked by the curiosity and wonder that this place instills.

At the time, the Yosemite Natural History Association — predecessor of Yosemite Conservancy — was nearing its semicentennial. In the 1920s, the association had helped launch a park-focused periodical, Yosemite Nature Notes, and Yosemite-based educational programs. By 1971, the association was in a bit of a slump, and leaders saw a need and opportunity to revitalize it by expanding interpretive services in Yosemite.

And so, under the leadership of NPS Chief Naturalist William Jones and business manager Henry Berrey, YNHA created the Yosemite Field Seminar program. That first summer, 1971, featured five courses: two on nature-based interpretation and three on Yosemite’s alpine zone. Despite the inherent limitations of the analog advertising tools available to the YNHA in the ‘70s, word got out. The inaugural courses attracted 71 students, with eager learners coming from as far away as Ohio and Illinois. By the next summer, course offerings had grown to 12 seminars, with 251 participants.

The Yosemite Field Seminar program had a predecessor in the prestigious Yosemite School of Field Natural History (often called the Yosemite Field School) which ran from 1925 until 1953. During its 28 years, the Yosemite Field School produced many talented and passionate park professionals. After graduating from the Field School in 1930, Carl Sharsmith went on to renown as a botany professor, a beloved summer ranger and naturalist in Tiolomne Meadows, and an inaugural instructor for YNHA’s Yosemite Field Seminars. I was fortunate to enroll in one of Sharsmith’s field seminars when I first arrived in Yosemite in 1985.

“‘It’s my very strong sense that the people who initiated the Yosemite Field Seminars in 1971 would approve of how their program has grown, adapted and evolved.’

Another Field School graduate, Beatrice “Bette” Willard (class of 1948) went on to join the Rocky Mountain Nature Association (now Rocky Mountain Conservancy), where, in the early 1960s, she started the National Park System’s first field seminar program oriented toward visitors, rather than aspiring rangers and professional naturalists. Eight years later, YNHA’s Yosemite Field Seminar program became the second such educational program run by a cooperating association. Those early models have since inspired similar visitor-focused field programs at many other NPS sites, including Yellowstone, Grand Canyon, Joshua Tree, and Point Reyes.

Since my first YNHA field seminar with Carl all those years ago, I’ve been lucky to follow in his alpine boot prints. In my 36 years in the park, teaching field seminars and directing the education programs of Yosemite Institute and then Yosemite Conservancy, I’ve led thousands of people on immersive educational experiences, from birding workshops in Yosemite Valley to geology courses at Lyell and Maclure glaciers. I even had the privilege of welcoming Carl’s fellow field seminar instructor, longtime Yosemite ranger-naturalist Lloyd Brubaker, as a student in one of the many woodpecker-focused courses I taught for the Conservancy over the years.

The past 50 years have seen dramatic changes in the park, our nation and the world—and within our organization. YNHA became Yosemite Association, and then merged with a fundraising arm to become today’s Yosemite Conservancy. Annual park visitation has doubled since 1971.

What hasn’t changed since Yosemite Field Seminars began half a century ago is that our organization remains dedicated to serving the park and the public with diverse, in-depth educational outings. The field seminars continue today as Yosemite Conservancy’s Outdoor Adventures, which aim to augment NPS goals in cultivating an informed and caring constituency of Yosemite stakeholders and stewards.

Today, our programs create opportunities for visitors to explore an array of topics, including American Indian culture, alpine ecology, botany, astronomy and ecology, through backpacking treks, snowshoe outings, day hikes, art retreats, birding walks, photography workshops, and more. We also provide public interpretive programs and customized outings for individuals and families, and work with travel companies, such as National Geographic and Backroads, to offer educational experiences for tour groups.

It’s my very strong sense that the people who initiated the Yosemite Field Seminars in 1971 would approve of how their program has grown, adapted and evolved.

50 years later, people from across the country and around the world still love Yosemite, and our organization is still here to help them deepen their connection with, understanding of, and appreciation for this remarkable park.”
